

First drafts from your own precedents. Lawyers decide what goes out.

We set up ChatGPT for Dubai law firms, legal consultancies and in-house teams. It works from your own precedents, clause library, intake forms and style guide, inside a workspace with access you control. AI prepares first drafts, summaries and client updates; your lawyers review, decide and sign off.

For boutique and mid-size law firms, legal consultancies, corporate services legal teams and in-house counsel.

An intake call, summarised for the partner

Sample matter for illustration

Intake notes

Client: trading LLC. Supplier delivered 40% of goods, invoice paid in full in March. Supplier stopped replying. Contract has DIFC courts clause? Not sure. Wants money back. Docs: PO, invoice, emails.

Associate - drafted by AI

Matter summary: commercial supply dispute, partial delivery (40%) against full payment (March). Client goal: recovery of the overpayment. To confirm: governing law and jurisdiction clause (DIFC or onshore), notice provisions, limitation dates. Documents received: PO, invoice, email chain. Missing: signed contract. Suggested next step: partner review of the jurisdiction clause before a demand letter is drafted.

Does this sound like your practice?

Associates spend their days on first drafts, summaries and updates. Partners spend their evenings reviewing them.

Blank-page drafting

Every letter and agreement starts from an old file and a lot of retyping.

Long documents, short time

Contracts and case files must be read and summarised before every meeting.

Two languages, every matter

Arabic and English versions of the same material, again and again.

Messy intake

Calls and emails turn into incomplete notes and repeated questions.

Clients want updates

Status emails take time nobody bills for.

Knowledge in people's heads

Your best clauses and precedents are hard to find.

Eight ways AI can help your law firm this month.

Each one is built on your precedents, clauses and style. Lawyers stay responsible for every output.

Drafting

1. First drafts from your precedents

Letters, NDAs, service agreements and notices drafted from your own templates and clause library.

TODAY

Drafting starts from an old file.

WITH AI

A precedent-based first draft in minutes.

Intake

2. Client intake summaries

Calls and emails become a structured matter summary with facts, goals, documents and open questions.

TODAY

Incomplete notes.

WITH AI

Every matter starts organised.

Languages

3. Arabic–English working drafts

Working translations and bilingual drafts for lawyer review; certified translation where required.

TODAY

Waiting for translation to understand a document.

WITH AI

Read and work in both languages immediately.

Review

4. Contract summaries

Key terms, obligations, dates and unusual clauses pulled from long contracts.

TODAY

Hours reading before a call.

WITH AI

A clear summary before every meeting.

Litigation support

5. Case-file chronologies

Emails and documents organised into a dated chronology with sources.

TODAY

Chronologies built by hand.

WITH AI

A first chronology to check.

Clients

6. Plain-language client updates

Status updates and explanations in clear language, in the client's preferred language.

TODAY

Updates delayed.

WITH AI

Clients kept informed.

Knowledge

7. Clause and precedent finder

Find the right clause or past precedent from your own library.

TODAY

Searching old folders.

WITH AI

Your best work, reused.

Management

8. Matter pipeline brief

Deadlines, pending reviews and next steps across matters in one page.

TODAY

Status scattered.

WITH AI

Partners see what needs them.

What your team would actually see.

Three everyday jobs. We can run any of these live on anonymised documents from your practice.

Contract summary

From a 24-page service agreement · sample

Term	Summary
Term	3 years, auto-renews unless 90 days' notice
Liability cap	12 months' fees, excluding fraud
Governing law	DIFC law; DIFC Courts
Unusual	Supplier may assign without consent (clause 18.2)

Lawyer review: clause 18.2 flagged as unusual against your standard position.

Client update in plain language

Sample matter

Associate · drafted by AI

Dear Mr Haddad, a short update: we sent the demand letter on 2 October. The supplier has 14 days to respond. If they don't, we'll discuss the next options with you, which may include filing a claim. No action is needed from you right now.

Matters, clauses and names shown are sample data for illustration. Nothing on this page is legal advice.
